VIVID STORY OF HOLD-UP.

How the Train Robbers Made Their Coup.

One of Them is Left Dead on the Ground.

Brave Express Messenger to Be Rewarded—But Reported Small.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. 11:30. A CHARGE (Wash.) Aug. 6.—The Burlington train which was held up near Savannah arrived here at 10 o'clock today. Engineer John E. Mooney of Minneapolis told a vivid story of the hold-up.

The robbers stopped the train by waving a white light, he said. "As soon as it stopped two men jumped into the cab and covered us with revolvers. One of them told the fireman to cut off the engine. After this was done the man who was pointing a gun at my head told me to pull the engine up away, and I ran up half a mile. Then they ordered me to jump off, and we walked back toward the train, where we were joined by the express messenger and another robber. They took us to the rear of the buffet car and told us to sit there. One of the robbers left us. They worked for an hour blowing open the safe, and finally brought the engine down again, and all of them got aboard it. A few feet from the train they told me to jump off and run, which I did. They ran the engine up seven miles and left her dead. Mooney believes that the robbers killed one of their own number, either purposely or accidentally. He thinks that the last robber was killed by robbers contained only $2500.

OFFICIAL REPORT.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The following is a summary of the robbery as reported by the general manager of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway: "Train No. 47 was held up last night about 11:30 o'clock near Savannah, Mo., about ten miles north of St. Louis. The switch was turned for the passing track, and the train was stopped. Two men, one of whom was armed with a small and express car and a composite car, were cut off and taken to the north side of the track. The express car was blown open with dynamite and the contents taken, after which the engine was cut off by the robbers and started north. As the robbers left, the express messenger fired at them. One robber was found dead about one mile north of St. Louis, and his body was given over to the coroner. At least six men were concerned in the robbery. So far as known only $2500 in silver was secured. None of the crew was hurt and none of the passengers molested. The express end of the car was badly damaged."

Announcement was made by the officials of the Burlington road and the Adams Express Company that a purse of $1000 would be made up by the two companies and given to Express Messenger for his bravery.

WORK OF EXPERTS.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. 11:30. MOUNT CARROLL (Ill.) Aug. 6.—In the train robbery at Marcus, Mo., the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway, last night, explosions were required to complete the destruction of the safe, and the car was badly wrecked. Evidently they were railroad men, one being a good engineer. William Boyd, express messenger, fired shots at the robbers, but without effect, and an attempt was made to blow him up in his car. The bandits had arranged to take the train of nine heavily-laden coaches, had not the signal to stop them been heeded. Several passengers in the buffet car, including the porter, were held prisoners during the struggle to crack the safe.

It is thought the dead robber was killed by a comrade by mistake. The body was put on the tender and run by the others a short distance and then thrown into the river. The middle-aged man and well dressed. In his pockets was found an Iowa Central railroad ticket for a round trip to Gilman, Iowa, issued in the name of L. A. Jacobs.

There was no way to telegraph in news of the hold-up, and the fireman walked back and gave the alarm. A special train of citizens and several police officers proceeded to the scene, but as the track runs along the Mississippi, and the country is largely adapted to a successful flight, the robbers easily escaped.

CAUGHT ON A TRELLIS.

Two Young Women Crushed to Death by a Train and Three Probably Fatally Injured by Jumping.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. 11:30. HOPKINSVILLE (Ky.) Aug. 6.—An excursion train on the Illinois Central caught five young women on a high trestle at Dawson Springs this afternoon. Two were crushed to death, and the others, jumping, were probably fatally injured. The dead: MISS JOHNNY SMITH, Paducah, Ky.; LUCY STEVENSON, Hickory Grove, Ky.

The injured: MISS LENA PLANT, Paducah, Ky.; EDITH STEVENSON, Hickory Grove, Ky.; ANNIE NICHOLS, Hawes, Ky.

All were visitors at the springs.

ARRESTED FOR PERJURY.

NORTH ADAMS (Mass.) Aug. 7.—Shortly after midnight a special officer from Washington awoke Gert Richard O'Brien at his home in this city to place him under arrest on the charge of perjury in his testimony before the Senate Committee last May, regarding affairs in the Philippines on a bench warrant from the District of Columbia.

NEW THEATRICAL TRUST.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—It is reported that a combination has been formed by managers and owners of burlesque theaters and road companies, controlling thirty-six houses in the United States and a like number of traveling organizations. The Empire, the Western and Eastern circuits are said to have joined the merger, and during the coming season the combination expects to save $2000 on the railroad and booking expenses for each manager.

to foot, and the unsightly wound over the right eye was a ghastly one. As he lay in the wheat, his rifle, which has become famous, lay by his side. His cartridge sack, which was made of buckskin, was found a short distance from him. It contained 150 rifle cartridges. Two boxes of revolver cartridges were also found near the sack, which he had carried since he was hunted near Seattle. At his ammunition was not near him, it is believed he was so weak that he thought he would expire before he could empty the chambers of his guns. Nine loads were found in the rifle.

He resembled his picture in every respect. His eyes are wide set, and have a piercing look. He has a wide forehead, which slopes from the very tips of his eyebrows. The back of his head is rather flat. His chin is somewhat projected, and rather broad. His lips were firm, even in death. His face was lean and haggard. His body was round, but did not contain any superfluous flesh. He was nothing but bones and muscles.

When Sheriff Gardner with the body drove through Davenport hundreds of people followed up the street and crowded about the wagon. By the time the funeral procession reached the morgue the streets were crowded and the crowd was so large that it was necessary to close the streets. The town was wild. The morgue doors had to be closed and the crowd was asked to stand back.

A number were allowed in to see the body, and that is when the trouble started. Everyone was a hunter, and the first of them got it, for after a short time nothing was left but the body, and some even suggested that the body would be gone before midnight. Someone even picked up the clothed, blood-stained handkerchief, which had been used by Tracy to wipe blood from his face. Before he could carry the awful relic away he had to do it up in paper, as it was too wet to place in his pocket. Someone got the strap which had been pulled around his leg, to keep him from bleeding to death. That, too, was soaked with blood, which was from the upper wound. Many locks of his hair were carried away, and in some places his head had been made bald. His trousers were cut into strips, and before they were divided they were cut into smaller pieces.

Some of the robbers' blades were divided among the members of the posse and those who could get at the buckskin sack.

MORE DETAILS.

BATTLE WITH OUTLAW.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. 11:30. SPOKANE (Wash.) Aug. 6.—The great man hunt is ended.

Crippled, bleeding, hopeless of escape, the outlaw crept into a wheatfield near Fellows last night, made a "last despairing effort to bind up his wounds, and then lay up his long race with death. Placing a revolver at his forehead he pulled the trigger, and a heavy bullet shattered his skull. At daylight this morning his body was found, his stiffened hand still grasping the revolver which ended his career of crime.

After baffling the officers of two States, after a wonderful flight of nearly 400 miles across Oregon and Washington, Harry Tracy was hunted down by five citizens of the little farming town of Creston, but one of whom was even a deputy. To them is to be paid the large reward.

Sheriff Gardner and posse arrived in time to guard the wheatfield through the night, but the work was already done. The country to which belongs the credit was made up of the following citizens of Creston: C. A. Straub, deputy sheriff; Dr. E. C. Lanier; Maurice Smith, attorney; J. J. Morrison, railway section foreman, and Frank Lillengren.

FIND THE OUTLAW.

These men, armed to the teeth, came out from Creston yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. They were working on the information of the Goldfinch youth, who had been forced to leave the company of the Oregon convict for over twenty-four hours at the Eddy ranch. Proceeding southeasterly for about eleven miles, the pursuing party made all possible haste in getting near the ranch of L. B. Eddy, on Lake Creek, about three miles south from Fellows, a station on the Washington Central Railway. The country is full of scrub rock, and the party took all precautions as to ambushes. When within a few hundred yards of the ranch they saw Farmer Eddy moving in one of his fields. While engaging him in conversation, they saw a man issuing from the barn door.

"Is that Tracy?" asked one of the party.

"I'm sure I'm," replied Eddy.

PREPARE AMBUSH.

The party separated, Lanier and Smith accompanying Eddy in the direction of the barn, while the other two men stayed around the house, ready for liberty in another direction.

The two men stepped behind the barn on a slight eminence, from which they could watch everything that went on, and the farmer continued up to the door. Tracy came from the barn again and began helping his host in unloading the horses. He carried no rifle, although he had his revolver in place.

The fugitive saw the men carrying rifles and guns, and he knew that Eddy said: "Who are those men?"

"I don't see any men," said Eddy.

Tracy pointed out the two men on the hill waiting to be sure of their man before they began their attack.

Tracy informed the men who were there, and the outlaw made a leap for the barn door. The officers, stepping a little closer, commanded:

"Hold up your hands." The outlaw jumped behind Eddy and placed first the man and then his horse between himself and the officers. He commanded the farmer to lead his horse to the barn, where, remaining under cover, he moved toward shelter. When Tracy the stable he broke up the inside. He quickly reappeared, rifle in hand, and started on a dead run down the valley.

HIS LUCK DESERTS HIM.

Turning on the two men, the desperado drew his shot, but without his usual luck, neither bullet taking effect. Without waiting for further fighting, Tracy took to his heels down the valley, leading south from the barn, heading for the brush. The man hunters were off in pursuit, firing as rapidly as possible. Coming to a rock, he dodged behind it, and resting his gun on the rock, began firing. Eight shots in all were fired by the outlaw, not one hitting his mark.

Seeing that he was not succeeding, he left the position and crawled into a wheat field not far distant. Just as he was entering the field, he stumbled, falling on his face, and crawled into the field on his hands and knees. By the time Tracy disappeared in the wheat field the posse was closing in. The pursuers did not dare to proceed, as they did not know where their man was. After holding a consultation they decided to surround the place and wait for daylight to come to their assistance.

In the mean time, Sheriff Gardner with Stauffer and Germain of Spokane, Jack O'Farrell of Davenport and other reinforcements had arrived on the scene. They went into camp around the field during the night. Shortly after Tracy's disappearance into the field, the watchers heard a shot, which sounded as though coming from about the spot which had been crawled into. Investigation was made, however, until this morning, but that shot is supposed to have been the one which sent the notorious desperado into eternity.

PIND HIS BODY.

Early this morning, as soon as it was possible for the hunters to see everything going on around them, an attempt was made into the wheat field. In a few minutes, the party came upon the dead body of Harry Tracy, lying amid the grain, with his face turned toward the sky. His left hand was over his head, and his right hand was over his forehead, which evidently inflicted the death wound. The thumb of his right hand was on the trigger.

His right hand, thrown across the lower part of his body, was only a few inches from the body of the famous desperado. The body was cold when found, pointing to the belief that the shot heard by the guards about 8 o'clock last night was the fatal one.

Upon examination of the body, the wound which resulted in the outlaw's death was inflicted by a 45-caliber revolver, held close to the forehead. The top of his head was badly shattered.

Two bullet wounds on the left leg showed the cause of the fall. One wound was at the ankle, and the other cut the tibial artery, which of itself was sufficient cause for death.

It is believed that both of these wounds were inflicted by the same gun. The murderer had taken a strap and buckled it tightly around his leg in an attempt to stop the bleeding. Despite the blood loss, the outlaw continued until he probably, realizing his hopeless condition, ended the struggle.

He was dressed in blue overalls, a white shirt, and a pair of shoes on his feet. He had a bicycle cap on his head and two revolvers, one in his hand and the other in his trousers.

CLAIM REWARD.

Sheriff Gardner of Lincoln county and his assistants arrived on the scene in time to help in the final discovery of the remains, and it is stated that he maintained that he, himself, and deputies were entitled to the reward. The reward was $10,000, and was divided among the men who captured him.

Probably the most spectacular move that the outlaw made during his dash for liberty was his capture by Sheriff Gardner and taken direct to Davenport, where they will be kept pending the final disposition of Tracy's body.

Reports come from Davenport that the outlaw was in a state of collapse, and that he was being kept in a room where people are crowded around to get a sight of the outlaw. It is stated that a heavy guard is kept around the morgue where the body is kept, and that the outlaw is being kept in a room where people are crowded around to get a sight of the outlaw.

FATAL OVERCONFIDENCE.

CAUSE OF TRACY'S DOWNFALL.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. 11:30. SPOKANE (Wash.) Aug. 6.—For two days and as many nights Tracy held the family of farmer L. B. Eddy under subjection. Here again he showed a boldness and overconfidence, but his downfall was brought about by his own hand.

The story of the exploits of the famous desperado, who was held for over a day, it was Sunday afternoon that G. E. Goldfinch was riding a horse across the prairie not far from Eddy farm. He noticed a strange man camped not far from where he passed. To all appearances, the man was just having his supper, but young Goldfinch paid no attention, noting nothing unusual in his actions. Just as the boy was about to pass, the camper called out, asking him to have some supper. With the reply that he had finished his supper, Goldfinch then passed the stranger. It was then that an imperative command from the stranger brought Goldfinch to a sudden stop. He was ordered to come back. This order the lad obeyed.

With the usual lack of ceremony the stranger ordered the boy to get a fire, and was directed to the Eddy ranch. Tracy at this time still had two horses. One rode, the other the boy says was loaded with groceries, meat, sugar, coffee and bedding.

"You go ahead and tell them I am coming," commanded the outlaw. Goldfinch readily complied, and started ahead to announce the coming of the guest to the farmer. He then proceeded on his way to the Eddy ranch.

Arriving at the Eddy ranch, Goldfinch performed the service allotted to him, and soon informed the family who the visitor was.

The night passed without any special happenings so far as the lad relates. In the morning Tracy first made his toilet. A bath and a shave were taken, and the desperado then dressed in his Winchester and one of his revolvers, labored with the other men during most of the morning. He kept his hands busy with the rifle, and by his side, ready for instant action. During the day the outlaw wanted his other weapons which had been left with his bedding and traveling outfit. He sent Goldfinch after the weapons, and proudly passed them around to the awe-stricken workmen. They were allowed to handle the weapons and inspect them, but it was said they took care not to have the muzzles of the guns pointing toward the outlaw.

Tracy all this time had a revolver in his left hand, and he was vouching for himself, he having remarked to the farmer: "I am not afraid of you." During the day the outlaw seemed that he needed a new holster, one of his revolvers being unsupplied. Young Goldfinch was instructed to find the leather, after which the outlaw soon made a holster.

READY TO PAY REWARD.

GOVERNOR OF OREGON.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. 11:30. SALEM (Or.) Aug. 6.—Gov. Geer today received a telegram from Constable C. A. Straub of Creston, Ore., of Tracy's suicide. He telegraphed Sheriff Gardner of Lincoln county, suggesting that the body be embalmed and forwarded to Seattle for identification by the Washington authorities for the purpose of paying the reward.

The Governor stands ready to pay the reward to the men responsible for his death. No one has been sent from the State to identify the body, but the Governor's secretary, Walter Lyon, and he will identify the remains.

The reward offered for Tracy amounts to $10,000, for the State of Oregon, $5000; State of Washington, $2500; Brother of J. D. Ferrell, one of the guards killed by Tracy, $100.

CAREER OF CRIME.

REMARKABLE NERVE OF TRACY.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. 11:30. SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 6.—Tracy and Merrill escaped from the Oregon penitentiary early Monday morning, June 3, after killing three prison guards. The army with their guns, murdered the guards were placed in the foundry by confederates during the previous night, and when the convicts went to work Tracy and Merrill opened fire on the guards, killing three of them. They were pursued by county sheriff, and Merrill was wounded. Tracy was given up, the convicts having apparently disappeared. On Sunday, June 10, Tracy was found, and he crossed the Columbia River near Vancouver, Wash.

The chase was taken up by several sheriffs from various counties in the State of Washington. The outlaw was apparently surrounded on several occasions, but he always escaped. They walked and fought their way through the country, holding up farmers whenever they got hungry, and compelled them to give them money and clothing. On June 28, near Chehalis, Tracy became suspicious of his partner, Merrill, and shot him. Tracy then fled, and it was found on July 14, Tracy claimed that Merrill was weak, and that he was afraid of him. He turned State's evidence.

Probably the most spectacular move that the outlaw made during his dash for liberty was his capture by Sheriff Gardner and taken direct to Davenport, where they will be kept pending the final disposition of Tracy's body.

Reports come from Davenport that the outlaw was in a state of collapse, and that he was being kept in a room where people are crowded around to get a sight of the outlaw. COST MANY THEIR LIVES.

Mistake of Conductor of Work Train.

Started Without Orders and Against Signal.

Both Engineers and Nine Laborers Killed and Many Hurt.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. 11:30. DES MOINES (Iowa) Aug. 6.—A freight and gravel train on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul collided between Collins and Rhodes this afternoon, and Engineer Dennis Markess of the freight train, and William Brayman, engineer of the work train, and nine laborers were instantly killed, while thirty-nine were injured, some seriously. Both of the engineers lived at Perry, and both leave families. The wreck is said to have been caused by the conductor of the work train.

A special train brought nine of the men injured in the wreck to Des Moines late tonight. One of the men, Fireman William Tharpe, is dying. The special train was in charge of Dr. A. W. Trout, the Milwaukee surgeon.

Perry, who gave the following as a list of the dead and injured: ENGINEER DENNIS MARKESS of the freight train. ENGINEER WILLIAM BRAYMAN of the construction train. Nine workmen on the construction train.

FIREMAN WILLIAM THARPE, freight train, Iowa. Eight workmen on construction train. Injured: Thirty construction train workmen, now at Collins.

O. M. Klingman of Rock Island was among the wounded brought here. His right arm was broken and he was badly bruised.

CONDUCTOR'S FAULT.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The following statement was issued from the office of the superintendent of the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad in this city regarding the accident at Marshalltown: "At 1:30 this afternoon, a freight and freight train collided on the Omaha division of the St. Paul road two miles west of Rhodes, Iowa, killing both engineers instantly, as well as nine laborers. Twenty others, all laborers, were injured."

From the information in the possession of the general superintendent's office, it appears that the work train was in charge of Conductor Craig, started west from Rhodes without orders, and notwithstanding the fact that the signal was set against the work train, and the further fact that the telegraph operator informed Conductor Craig that the freight had already left Collins, the next station west of Rhodes, and he then east-bound between the two places.

The officials of the company are utterly at a loss to explain the conduct of Conductor Craig, and that of the engineer of the work train in leaving the station west of Rhodes, and the information that another train was on its way."

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

DISMISSED THE APPEAL.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 6.—By reason of their having escaped from jail, the Halls and Brooks, who were under sentence to the penitentiary at the time of their escape, appear to have lost their standing in the courts. On motion of the Attorney-General, the Supreme Court has dismissed their appeal for a new trial. The effect of this is to permit them to be taken at once to the penitentiary to serve out their sentences when they shall be caught. As yet but slight traces have been found to indicate that the fugitives are attempting to cross the desert to the Southern Pacific at Yuma.

HE WASTED MANY BALLS.

Long Game at Oakland Due to Cristall.

Looos Victorious by Five to Three.

American Tennis Players Surpass the Englishmen—Covers Regatta.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—[Exclusive] Once more a long game at Oakland today, with eleven innings of fast baseball with their bats on the short end of a 5-3 score. Cristall and Mills, who have played many similar battles in the New York league, were the opposing pitcher and batter, and while the score shows that the former had a shade the best of it, Mills twirled the better game.

The Los Angeles bats were still a bit under the weather, and did not show their assortment of curves to much advantage, but his control was superb, and he relied on the men back of him to do the work. Cristall was wild, sending many balls during the afternoon, and being chiefly responsible for the length of playing time consumed.

Unlucky features were absent, but the situation, consequent upon free hitting, was somewhat peculiar. Each team had men stranded on the bases, and the want of a hit to bring them in and both clubs squeezed out of the holes at various stages. In the twelfth, Los Angeles had three men on base, and only one when a double play stifled further hopes of making runs, but they had men over the plate at the time, so the score did not help Oakland any.

THE SCORE.—The score of the game is as follows:

AUTOMOBILE RECORDS. BROKEN BY VANDERBILT. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—W. K. Vanderbilt has broken the automobile records for a mile and almost for a kilometer, according to a Paris dispatch to the New York American.

The course was along the road between Abil and St. Arnault, flying along the mile in 42.5 sec., and the kilometer in 29.2 sec.

The kilometer time has been beaten only by two-fifths of a second.

The previous world's record for one mile, by an automobile, was held by Henri Fournier. It was made in record competition, held under the auspices of the Long Island Automobile Club, over the Coney Island boulevard, between Prospect Park and Coney Island, Brooklyn, November 16 last.

The course was straightaway, and practically a dead level. The mile was electrically timed in 51.5 sec., a rate of 80.5 miles an hour. Other records for the mile, by car, were: 1:01.54, by a bicycle, 6:57.45, by a motorcycle, 1:01.54, by a motorcycle, 4m. 12.5 sec.

AMERICANS SURPASS ENGLISH. TENNIS FOR CHALLENGE CUP. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The Dwight F. Davis International lawn-tennis challenge cup appears to be destined to repose in this country.

Both Malcolm D. Whitman and William A. Lawrence, the Americans, played better than Dr. Joshua Pitt and R. F. Doherty, the Englishmen. In the two sets played in the opening sets in the singles on the courts of the Crescent Athletic Club on Bay Ridge today, in both competitions the point score was one-sided, and had the rain held off a third set, the British would unquestionably have returned the Americans the winners.

Whitman scored his sets against Dr. Pitt, at 6-1, 6-1, and Lawrence against R. F. Doherty, at 6-2, 6-3.

DAN PATCH TO RACE. GOING AGAINST STAR POINTER. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The National Trotting Association has arranged to have Dan Patch, the celebrated pacer who won a mile in 2:00.4 at Columbus last Saturday, go against Star Pointer's record of 1:59.4 at the Brighton Beach track, Saturday, August 16. The association will offer a purse of $5000 for the event, and this will be a substitute for a purse of $1000 which it was intended to give for a race between pacers.

McHenry, the driver of Dan Patch, promised to go against the record, rather than to engage in a race, and he expresses the belief that Dan Patch will lower Star Pointer's time.

HURLS TRAIN INTO DITCH.

Torrent Dashes Down a Colorado Canyon.

Train Man Gives Warning and Saves Lives.

Wall of Water Eight Feet High Sweeps the Cars from Track.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. FLORENCE (Colo.) Aug. 6.—A Rio Grande special passenger train from the East, bound to California, and conveying 300 tourists, is in the ditch, just east of Florence, near Swallowa. The wreck was caused by the train, being struck by a wall of water eight feet high, coming down Peck Creek, caused by the heavy rains in the mountains.

The brakeman saw the torrent when it was only a short distance from the train. He rushed through the eight coaches and told the passengers on the two rear cars to hurry to the front of the train. Just as the last tourist left the rear coach, the water struck the cars, and breaking the coupling pins, hurled them into the air, and landed them forty feet from the track. The trucks were knocked off the day coach, which, after striking the ground, went down fifteen feet into the mud.

The sleeper was thrown against the farmhouse of J. F. Roberts, which was occupied by himself, wife and three children. The coach formed a wall, and turned the building from going into the river, and also the lives of its occupants. The engine was badly damaged by the water, but managed to pull the two cars remaining on the track some distance from the flood, and they are now occupied by the tourists and train men. Agent Mense of the Florence station, sent refreshments to the passengers.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) DENVER (Colo.) Aug. 6.—Cloud-bursts and heavy rains in a few hours yesterday afternoon damaged the Rio Grande, Colorado, Midland and railroad to the extent of $100,000, and possibly more. Seven bridges are gone on the Rio Grande, and many miles of track washed away in different places. On the Colorado Midland two bridges were destroyed, and the track inundated, or washed out between Manitou and Cascade. General Manager Schlacks of the Colorado Midland and General Superintendent Egan of the Rio Grande, Colorado, Midland and railroad, are supervising repairs. The Rio Grande west-bound trains are running to Colorado Springs over their own tracks, thence over the Cripple Creek line to Cripple Creek, over the Midland Terminal to Divide, and thence over the Colorado Midland to Leadville. The same route is used returning.

The Colorado Midland trains are running by the same route.

CLARK BUYS A PAPER. Helena Independent to Be Given a New Name and Be Brought Up to Date by the Senator.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) HELENA (Mont.) Aug. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is reported here today, on what is regarded as reliable authority, that United States Senator W. A. Clark has purchased the Helena Independent, a morning daily, at a price in the neighborhood of $150,000. The Senator bought several lots on Main street, for the avowed purpose of erecting a new home for the Independent, and it is understood that he will make it an up-to-date paper in every way.

The paper was owned by Democratic National Committeeman J. S. M. Neill, and has always been a warm adherent of Senator Clark. F. Augustus Heinze, it is also reported, is conducting negotiations for the purchase of the Helena Herald, an evening paper, in order that he may be represented at the State capital.

Delegates to Catholic Societies Convention Seem to Be Generally Convinced That There Has Been No Discrimination Against Their Religion in Philippines.

Delegates to Catholic Societies Convention seem to be generally convinced that there has been no discrimination against their religion in the Philippines. A discussion as to the best course to pursue in the Orient followed. The general tenor of the convention seems to be that no intentional discrimination against Catholicism had been made by the administration. Particular stress was laid by the delegates on the enactment of laws for the islands by which certain hours have been set aside during school session when priests may speak to the pupils on religion.

Rev. William of Washington, D. C., addressed the convention relative to the work of Christianizing the Indians and the necessity of securing a renewal of former appropriations by the government for school purposes. He said that some years ago, when the Indian problem was a very grave one, the government had asked the Catholic church to go into the Indian missionary field to civilize the Indians by Christianizing them, and to aid the church had given financial aid.

During the wave of anti-Catholicism that swept over the country several years ago, these appropriations were stopped. Much aid, he said, had been secured from Sister Drexel of Philadelphia, and the work of the missions among the Indians was progressing somewhat, but it was the sense of the convention that the government should help in the work. The question of work both in the Philippines and among the Indians, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

Long Game at Oakland Due to Cristall.

Looos Victorious by Five to Three.

American Tennis Players Surpass the Englishmen—Covers Regatta.

THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—[Exclusive] Once more a long game at Oakland today, with eleven innings of fast baseball with their bats on the short end of a 5-3 score. Cristall and Mills, who have played many similar battles in the New York league, were the opposing pitcher and batter, and while the score shows that the former had a shade the best of it, Mills twirled the better game.

The Los Angeles bats were still a bit under the weather, and did not show their assortment of curves to much advantage, but his control was superb, and he relied on the men back of him to do the work. Cristall was wild, sending many balls during the afternoon, and being chiefly responsible for the length of playing time consumed.

Unlucky features were absent, but the situation, consequent upon free hitting, was somewhat peculiar. Each team had men stranded on the bases, and the want of a hit to bring them in and both clubs squeezed out of the holes at various stages. In the twelfth, Los Angeles had three men on base, and only one when a double play stifled further hopes of making runs, but they had men over the plate at the time, so the score did not help Oakland any.

I ought to know and do know

Exactly what to do to effect a thorough cure in every case that I accept for treatment. Though this is something that every specialist ought to know, it is rare knowledge indeed. The hundreds of evidences of misdiagnosis and come beneath my observation, prove the general lack of a clear understanding of men's diseases and their treatment. "Push" Leaders Seeking a "Compromise."

Spanish-Americans Shout for Flint—Gov. Gage Still in Town.

Quiet but strenuous work in preparation for the primaries of next Tuesday marked the doings of the opposing political factions in Los Angeles yesterday. With the contest for supremacy in the county narrowed down to less than a week, the warfare is waxing warmer, and it has reached a point where each side thinks it knows where it stands. The supporters of Senator Flint's candidacy still claim they will control their original estimate of 60 per cent of the Los Angeles county delegation to the State convention, and the "push" leaders claim anything from nominal to solid support for their candidate.

At Flint headquarters the officers were engaged in mailing to every voter in the county circulars giving reasons why Gage should not receive a renomination, together with other information of value to voters at the primary election. Several thousand of these circulars were sent out during the day to voters outside the cities of Los Angeles and Pasadena, and the remainder will go today.

While this campaign of education was being carried on by the opponents of machine rule, the members of the "push" were working with the sinews of political warfare among the voters whom they hope to line up at the booths Tuesday.

At the same time, Walter Parker and others of the "push" minority were working among the leaders of the opposition in an endeavor to gain much-needed ground. "Let's settle this matter amicably at Friday night's caucuses," they said, but they failed to receive any assurance that an "amicable" settlement would be forthcoming.

"Compromise" has been the plea of the "push" for several weeks, and as the primaries approach, it seems to be more and more of a matter of adjustment, whereby the opposing faction may be brought into its camp, in part, at least. Flint leaders, however, say they have nothing to compromise, explaining that it is not the custom of an attorney who practically has won a case to make a compromise with the other side. The fact appears to be that the "push" is clearly "on the run," and that it is seeking to save what it can from the wreckage. In some districts where they have no hopes of electing a delegation of delegates, they are making an array at the close of the afternoon to see the Governor go by, and there was an utter absence during the day of those "influential" speakers usual supposed to call and tell Henry of the "remarkable outburst of public opinion" in his favor. It was a cold day for the "push," and its members huddled closely together in an effort to escape the chilliness.

OPEN-AIR MEETING.

PLINT SPANISH-AMERICANS. The first open-air meeting of the campaign was that of the Spanish-American Flint Club, which was held last evening in front of the Plaza. One thousand or more Spanish-Americans and others stood around the platform that had been erected for the occasion, and listened to addresses by Frank Dominguez and other speakers well known to the Spanish-Americans. The Mexican Band furnished music.

Robert Dominguez was chairman of the evening, and said he had been introduced by Charles Soward of the Eighth Ward, who gave at some length the reasons why Gov. Gage should not be renominated and why voters should support the candidacy of Hon. Thomas Flint, Jr. L. H. Emerson, also of the Eighth Ward, said he had been introduced by the birth of the Republican party, spoke on similar lines.

A prominent figure on the platform was John W. Smith, with whom the brother of Brig.-Gen. Jacob H. Smith, who returned recently from the Philippines. Frank Dominguez, who has spent three years in the Philippines, made two addresses, one in English the other in Spanish. In the first, he expressed his pleasure at the assemblage of citizens who had gathered, he believed, to do honor to Hon. Thomas Flint, Jr. He called attention to Senator Flint's fitness for the position to which he aspires, and said the people should stand behind him and make him the next Governor of California.

Mr. Dominguez reviewed the history of the Republican party, with especial reference to its position on the Philippine question, praising the statesmanship of the Republican Presidents, the late William McKinley, and Theodore Roosevelt, through which the Philippine question has been handled so wisely. He also paid tribute to the deeds of the army in the far-off islands, commended the officers and men who have carried forward the American policy, and said a glowing tribute to the civil government which has been established by Hon. William H. Taft.

Some disorder prevailed in the assemblage through the presence of a number of Gage "rooters" who shouted for their candidate from their station on the Plaza curb, and the managers of the meeting were not without another trial. The speaker on whom they depended for an address in Spanish, R. F. Sepulveda, failed to put in an appearance. Some said he was sick; others that he had been kidnapped by the "push" forces.

Gov. Gage Still in Town.

Gov. Gage was unable, as usual, to drop pressing political matters at the new capital in the Hollenbeck yesterday and returned.

"ACTING GOVERNOR."

Importance require his attention. His three delegates from his home precinct, Frutland, are pledged to vote in district convention for the "push" delegation to Sacramento from the Sixth and Ninth Assembly District. The Governor spent some time yesterday telephoning to members of the county Flint Campaign Committee and inquiring of them if their names appear on Flint literature "by authority." He found that they do.

Dan Kevane Holds the Fort. Reports from Sacramento yesterday indicated that Acting-Governor Dan Kevane was holding down the Governor's chair at the State Capitol, and that he was attending to matters of vital importance to the State that cannot wait the arrival of the Chief Executive. Long and close association with the Governor's method of handling business, and with him in the case of Governor Gage, has no fear that anything is neglected. Kevane may not return in time to take care of his home precinct of San Gabriel at Tuesday's primary election.

"Scandalous" Pictures.

"Certain of the admirers" of Harry Tracy in Los Angeles "denounce as scandalous" a picture of him that appeared in the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner. The "alleged picture" makes it appear that Tracy is a beetle-browed villain and a murderer, whereas it is known that he did not kill a man for several days prior to his death. The "apparent object" of the picture is to brand the escaped and now dead desperado as a low-down dog. There also is great indignation and chagrin at Gage headquarters over certain cartoons that have appeared recently in a morning paper of Los Angeles.

Use for City Market.

Use has been found at last for the "city market" on Central avenue, the rambling shanty which represents an outrageous investment of several thousand dollars of municipal funds. It has been converted into what is termed a "very comfortable" wigwam for the select of their delegates to the State convention. With few exceptions the tickets stand as they will on the morning of the primaries.

Political Briefs.

Senator Belshaw will arrive at noon today from the North and will address the Flint mass meeting that is to be held this evening at Pasadena. A meeting of the Sixth Ward Republican Club will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at Fisher's Hall, corner Central avenue and Adams street. Addressees will be made by Byron L. Liver, Esq., and Dr. A. J. C. Rivers, and the Glenwood Quartette will sing. Candidates for office are expected in large numbers. Refreshments will be served.

NATAL NEEDS WHITE FARMERS.

PIETERMARITZBURG (Natal) Aug. 6.—An important report made by the Surveyor General and Director of Agriculture estimates that 10,000 white farmers are necessary in order to enable Natal to supply her own agricultural needs, and declares that preference should be given to small farmers equal to 2 per cent. of the unimproved value, and also advocates assisted immigration, and grants of money to encourage.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS DELEGATES ARRIVING.

TRAINLOADS OF THEM DUE TODAY IN LOS ANGELES.

Entertainment in Honor of Visitors Saturday Evening at Hazard's Pavilion—Convention of Hibernians Next Week—Modern Woodmen Officials.

Business was quiet yesterday at the Knights of Pythias headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce, as only a few delegates had arrived en route to the grand convocation in San Francisco. About eight straggling arrivals from various eastern points were reported. Chief among this lot was W. P. Westwood of Baltimore, Md., who has the honor of being Supreme Chancellor of the first Knights of Pythias lodge ever instituted. It was formed in Washington, D. C., in 1866. Mr. Westwood will be accorded high honors at the convocation on account of his long connection with Pythianism.

A large number of Pythias ladies will arrive today, the first lot being due at 8 o'clock this morning over the Santa Fe road. This will consist of a Colorado special, which will include one car from Victor and one from Canon City, in addition to the regular "special," bringing delegates from various parts of the State. With these Michigan cars will be O. H. Fethers, Supreme Chancellor of the United States. A delegation from Cincinnati, O., will arrive in a five-car special at 10 o'clock tonight.

A majority of the visiting Knights will remain until Sunday, and in their honor an entertainment will be given Saturday night in Hazard's Pavilion. The three best companies of the Uniform Rank will have a drill, and speeches will be made by Mayor Snyder, Supreme Chancellor O. H. Fethers of Jamesville, Wis., and Superior Judge D. K. Trask of this city, Grand Chancellor of this State.

The general exodus of Knights from Los Angeles will be Sunday, the visiting Knights to be reinforced by two trainloads of local Knights. All of the companies of the Third Regiment, Uniform Rank, except that of Santa Barbara, will drill all day Saturday at Agricultural Park, and the three making the best showing will drill that night at Hazard's Pavilion.

HIBERNIANS.

CONVENTION NEXT WEEK. The local divisions of the Ancient Order Hibernians are making great preparations for their biennial State convention, which will meet in this city next week, beginning on Monday and continuing four days. It is expected that there will be about 125 delegates present from the sixty-seven divisions in the State, and all of the high officials of the State division will be here.

The exercises during the week will begin Monday morning with a solemn high mass at the cathedral at 9 o'clock, with Father Murphy as celebrant. At its conclusion the delegates and members will march to Harmon Hall on Fifth street, between Main and Spring streets, where the first session of the convention will meet at 10 o'clock.

The first day's session will be devoted to routine business, and the and the preliminary business would be up Wednesday night. An entertainment will be given at the hotel on Thursday the convention will close. By way of diversion an entertainment and dance will be given the evening delegates at Turner Hall on Monday night, and on Tuesday evening there will be a banquet at Levy's restaurant. The festivities will conclude with the picnic on Wednesday.

Modern Woodmen.

The State Council of the Modern Woodmen will be in Los Angeles next week, accompanied by several high officials of the order, to hold several meetings for the purpose of the question of a raise in the insurance rates of the order.

AT NEW YORK HOTELS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) At the Imperial, F. E. Silverwood and N. Fease.

WAR CLOUD HANGS NIGH.

Fire Insurance Exchange Plan Fails and Rates Will Suffer.

Attempts to found a Los Angeles fire insurance exchange have failed and a rate war is imminent. A meeting of sixty representative agents at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon the "board" companies, affiliated with the Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, withdrew their support from the move. Horace Wheeler, R. B. Stevens, Leslie Gray and E. D. Silent, composing the committee on organization, reported that an agreement from all the "non-board" agencies to join the proposed exchange could not be secured.

All the agreements filed with the committee were destroyed, the forfeit checks returned and the committee discharged. On motion of Mr. Wheeler, the conference adjourned sine die on a viva voce vote. "Non-board" agents became alarmed at the prospect of a rate war and persuaded a majority of the agents to re-enter the room. A rising vote was taken and it was decided to meet once more. It was declared last night that none of the influential insurance men will attend.

"I cannot see how the action of the conference today can result otherwise than in a disastrous rate war," declared Mr. Wheeler. "It may not result at once, but is the inevitable outcome, in my judgment, of the refusal of some of the 'non-board' companies to affiliate. The movement originated with the 'non-board' companies, and it was then thought that all would fall in line. The 'board' companies have dropped the exchange plan and I do not be-

RAILROAD RECORD.

BALLONA BRANCH MAKING PROGRESS.

GRADING BEGUN ON ELECTRIC ROAD TO REDONDO. Local Railroad Circles Rejoice in W. Thompson's Fine New Position of General Agent—Pushing New "Short Line" Project.

E. P. Clark, president of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company, states that work on the new Ballona branch of the Santa Monica electric road is progressing satisfactorily. Two grading outfits comprising a hundred men each are employed in leveling up the right of way, and putting in final shape for track laying. This work, bearing emergencies, will all be done inside of thirty days.

The Ballona branch is the proposed new line to Redondo. It is a thirteen-mile long, running through Playa del Rey, which beach is seven or eight miles from Redondo. The new road leaves the main line near the vineyard on 104th street, out by the city limits, at the same place where the branch to Ocean Park strikes off. In fact, the Ballona branch will run on the Ocean Park line for about four miles.

NEW "SHORT LINE" BOOST.

Another boost was given the proposed Elysian Hills-Pasadena "short-line" electric road last night. An enthusiastic public meeting was held in the Church of the Nazarene chapel, on Scott avenue, and the committee made its report.

After waiting over seven years for Clark and Sherman to fulfill their contract and trolleyize the horse-car line on Echo Park road, the people of the Elysian Hills territory have decided to take hold of the matter themselves and see if they can induce some company to take the line, electric street, and extend it to Pasadena by way of Tropic, Glendale and Eagle Rock.

Last night's meeting was presided over by Thomas Kelley, with Louis Duni as secretary.

The committee, composed of Messrs. Kelley, G. Willard and L. Oortwyn, appointed at last week's meeting to interview the railway companies, asked for further time.

E. C. Myers, secretary for Epos Randolph, general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, was present, and stated that Mr. Randolph was investigating the merits of the proposed route and would be prepared to make a statement at the next meeting of the citizens' committee. Randolph has made a personal inspection of the route.

It has also become apparent that the Clark and Sherman people are not without interest in the proposed line, and although they have delayed building for seven years, now that another company has its eye on the field, it looks more attractive to them. Attorney Galbreath stated last night that he is of the opinion a bill in equity could be filed to compel this company to fulfill its contract of electrifying the horse-car line or forfeit its franchise from Echo Park to the Main street. There was considerable interest shown in the discussion of the advantages of the proposed route. The fact was brought out that it would tap three of the city parks, Echo, Elysian and Griffith, and this of itself would be a valuable feature for future business.

It was stated that the present horse-car line and the right of way to the river will be turned over to the company that will build the line; and the people across the river are eager for the road, and will offer valuable inducements.

The City Council has agreed to have the chain gang grade Scott avenue from the west line of Elysian Park to Echo Park road, and the work of street-railway building.

There would be but one railroad to cross on the route to Pasadena, and that is the Southern Pacific at the Los Angeles River. The Board of Supervisors has discussed the possibility of a bridge at that point, and it might be utilized for a street railway as well as for wagon traffic.

Messrs. Kelley, Willard and Oortwyn were elected a permanent committee to represent the citizens before the various railway companies, and Messrs. Howard, John, Duni and Champlin a committee to visit the people along the proposed route and work up general interest in the plan and in the next meeting, which will be held in the Scott-avenue chapel a week from tomorrow night.

RAILWAY MISCELLANY.

Friends of F. W. Thompson, the popular railroad man, who, for years, was the Los Angeles passenger agent for the Rock Island in Southern California, will rejoice at his latest advancement as announced from San Francisco. About two years ago Thompson went north to accept a position as Coast agent of the Great Northern and Rio Grande system. Now the news comes that he has just been appointed general western freight and passenger agent for the Rock Island, with headquarters in San Francisco. All afternoon yesterday Thompson's good fortune was celebrated by his many friends in local railroad circles.

C. D. Dunann, general passenger agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, left for San Francisco yesterday after a pleasant vacation spent at Catalina. Mr. Dunann states that the company's new steamer Ramona, now being completed in the yards of the Risdon Iron Works, San Francisco, will probably be ready for service about the 15th inst. The craft will relieve the old steamer Coos Bay, and will be placed in the "narrow-gauge" trade between San Pedro, Newport and other coast points south of San Francisco.

Following is an epitome of the work of the State Board of Equalization in California railway assessments. It appears that substantial increases have been made. The total assessment of railroad property in the State for 1901 was $22,525,000; for 1902, $24,121,455; for 1903, $24,865,192. The Southern Pacific property has been raised from $2,500,000 to $2,525,000; the Santa Fe from $2,500,000 to $2,525,000; the Santa Fe Pacific has been raised from $1,500,000 to $1,525,000; the Southern California motor line between San Bernardino and Colton stands as last year, at $400,000, as does the Randburg Railway at $125,000. The Pullman company's state assessment has been cut from $300,000 to $250,000.

Miss Mary T. Fraser, local ticket agent of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, is in San Francisco on a two weeks' vacation. During her absence Miss Katherine Cray, the company's ticket agent at Pasadena, is transferred to the Los Angeles office.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS FOR THE BENEFIT OF BUSY
WIVES AND MOTHERS

Will you kindly print in your column what effect peroxide of hydrogen has on the skin? If it is harmful, and if it will remove freckles? LOUISE.

Peroxide of hydrogen, it is claimed by those who use it, does not injure the skin. Women who have yellowed their necks by wearing high, tight collars remove the sallow tinge by washing the skin with peroxide of hydrogen.

Further than this I have no right to go. Mrs. Henry Symes answers queries as to facial blemishes and the like. Since her engagements will not allow her to reply by mail, if you will send me a stamped and self-addressed envelope I will put you into communication with those who can help you.

Will you kindly inform me through your column as to the proper gift to send for a second wedding anniversary? A CONSTANT READER.

As the second anniversary is the "paper wedding," send the bride a handsome writing case stocked with paper and envelopes, stamped with her initials.

Will you kindly come to my aid, as you have to many of your "suffering sisters," by telling me how to remove sweetened milk stains from a blue and white polka dot satin foulard? M. F. G.

Sponge with warm water and alcohol. This will remove sugar and dust. What is left is grease from the cream. Rub the wrong side of the silk with pulverized French chalk. Leave on all night, brush off the powder, lay blotting paper over the spot, and press with a warm iron.

Will you kindly inform me as to the best way to get rid of the little insect called the "buffalo moth"? You may know it by some other name. It is more like a small bug than the regular moth, and seems to require different treatment. HOUSEKEEPER.

Take up carpets and remove furniture into the open air. Beat and sun thoroughly. Before returning them to their places inject gasoline, into which red pepper has been stirred, into the cracks of the flooring, and about the baseboard and moldings. Shut the room up for four hours. While the carpets are up sprinkle them freely with dry salt and sweep them twice—once against the nap, once with it. The salt kills eggs and larvae and freshens the colors.

It is with pleasure and edification that I eagerly peruse your column, but this is my initial letter to you. It replies to the request for canning tomatoes.

Lots "J. R." I have had many failures. Two summers ago I tried my mother-in-law's plan, and as a result I have in my cellar two jars left from last summer. Out of thirteen quart jars but one spoiled, and that because it was not air-tight. Here is mother-in-law's (and now my) method.

Wash and skin the tomatoes. Squeeze them lightly to expel the seeds. Do this carefully without destroying the shape of the tomato, as they are nicer whole. Fill the jars with the whole tomatoes, strain through a sieve the seeds and juice that have been squeezed out and cover the tomatoes in jars with this juice. Then place a board about one-half inch thick in your wash boiler, setting the jars on the board, not to touch each other; put the tops or lids on tightly, but do not turn. Pour cold water in the boiler about two inches lower than the top of the jars; set over the fire and boil two hours, at the end of which time the liquid in the jars will be almost colorless or clear like water, because the acid is almost gone. Lift out one jar at a time; put a new rubber on and screw tight. When cold screw again, and be sure they are air-tight. Lastly, cover the jar with a sugar bag, or some bag, so as to exclude the light. Mould sometimes forms, but that is a sure sign they are keeping. Many people render lids unfit for use by using a knife blade to open. They should be turned upside down in boiling hot water for five minutes, and then opened with a can opener. I think tomatoes at the best are hard to keep, and would suggest that "J. R." begin with new lids and new rubbers. I might add that the jar will be three-fourths full at the end of two hours' boiling, and if one desires one can fill up from another jar. I close mine up as they are, because our family is small, and the quantity is sufficient. Tomatoes canned in this way need only be heated and seasoned for the table. They are not only beautiful in the jar, but like, fresh from the stalk. I wish you could see them.

If "J. R." tries this method, I wish her the success I have had. MRS. G. E. F.

It is not every week or every month that brings to me the pleasure of publishing so well-written a letter, and one that explains so clearly the process the writer would describe. The veriest tyro in housewifery could follow the directions here given without a doubtful pause. Our new member's method of putting up tomatoes so nearly resembles that followed by myself for thirty years with signal success that I endorse it emphatically. I always fill my jars to overflowing, emptying four jars out of twelve to supply the remaining eight.

Tomatoes thus canned are infinitely superior to any that can be bought. I take this opportunity of inquiring if any correspondent who read the discussion which appeared in this paper last summer relative to the cold-water process of preserving vegetables and fruits, gave it a fair trial, and if so, with what results. I have a story to tell of my own experience in that line, but invite other "sisters" to "free their minds" before I speak.

For years I have had it in my heart to make a pillow of some light cool material. Last year we saved corn husks; to-day I converted them into material for filling a pillow by shredding them with a silver fork. These were popcorn husks. I held the husk by the stem and shredded upward, afterward cutting away the stem. I then filled the pillow cover, and am much pleased.

I have profited by others' suggestions and recipes, and wish to add my mite. J. C.

Let the blessed work of doing good and of communicating go on. It is by the aggregate of such "littles" added daily, hourly and by the minute, that we move toward the millennium. It is the work of the coral-builders and the gathering, first into the nebulae, then into the worlds, of star dust. In the sight of Him who numbers the hairs of our heads and "sifts the stars like sand" nothing that helps the feeblest of His children is petty or ignoble.

Will you kindly tell me what will take a perspiration stain out of pongee silk?

Sponge gently with equal parts of warm water (soft and clean) and alcohol. Wipe dry at once. Should a stain remain, as is probable—for perspiration contains both salts and acids—wash with ether.

I have a light green laneland dress, and I got some kind of a spot on it. Will you please tell me something that will remove it without taking the color out? M. H.

"Some kind of a spot" is very indefinite. If the stain were caused by acid, ammonia might restore the color. In ignorance of the nature of the "spot," I refer you to advice just given to "F. W."

BEER STEINS TURNED INTO AN ORCHESTRA

THE most fantastic set of beer steins in existence is probably that which Philadelphia had a chance to see the other day.

The queer set was among the wedding presents showered upon Elsie Cassatt when she was married to William Plunkett Stewart, of Baltimore, in January last. The gift aroused the curiosity of every guest.

Each stein is of silver and fashioned to represent a musician blowing a horn, playing a violin or beating a drum. When the nine are placed in the centre of a table they form a complete orchestra.

While decidedly interesting as examples of the workmanship of a century ago, the steins can scarcely be regarded as model drinking vessels. The head and shoulders of the musicians can be lifted off. This discloses a cavity in the body, which holds about as much liquor as a wine glass.

There are no handles unless the horns and stringed instruments are intended for that purpose. They were made in London, maker's name unknown, and fashioned by hand with rare skill.

The patience of the silversmith who fashioned the cups must have been extraordinary, for the delicate strings of the violins and the intricate parts of the wind instruments are all carefully modeled, and the heads of the musicians are studies in themselves. One man looks around with the air of an expert who has trilled off his solo and knows he has done it as none else can; others are almost cracking their cheeks as they put vigor into the melody; the fello player smiles gleefully over his individual contribution, and the bass drummer and performer on the cymbals pound their respective instruments. The musicians wear the ruffles and trunks of the Elizabethan period.

NEW BATCH OF SALAD RECIPES FOR DOG-DAY READING

DANDELION SALAD

Break the dandelion leaves in halves and lay them in cold water for half an hour, then drain and lay in iced water for another half hour. Drain and send to the table in a chilled salad bowl, serving with a dressing made of two tablespoonfuls of olive oil, one of vinegar, a half-teaspoonful of onion juice and a saltspoonful, each, of salt and pepper.

A NICE FISH SALAD

Boil fresh halibut until done, but not broken. Sprinkle with salt and set aside to get very cold; then cut into neat pieces about an inch square. Line a bowl with lettuce, lay the bits of fish among the leaves and put on each piece of fish a slice of crisp cucumber. Pour mayonnaise dressing over all.

CUCUMBER AND CRESS SALAD

Into a chilled salad bowl put a layer of fresh, crisp watercress, then a layer of thinly sliced cucumbers. These should be soaked first in ice water. Then a teaspoonful of finely minced chives, then another layer of cucumbers with a light border of the cress around the edge. Keep it on the ice till very cold. When ready to serve, pour French dressing over it and toss about till well mingled. It should be served and eaten immediately, as it soon wilts in the vinegar, and you cannot have it too cold.

NUT SALAD

Shell two dozen English walnuts and throw them into boiling water. When the skins slip from them easily, remove the nuts from the water and skin them. Lay the blanched nuts when cold and crisp, in salad oil for half an hour, drain and lay them among the crisp lettuce leaves. Serve with mayonnaise dressing.

NUT AND ORANGE SALAD

Peel and cut into bits sweet oranges, and shell English walnuts. Dispose the oranges and nuts among the leaves of a bowl of lettuce, and pour mayonnaise dressing over all.

PEACH SALAD

Pare large sweet peaches. Cut a section from the top of each, and carefully remove the stones; fill the cavity with mayonnaise and serve in lettuce cups. Have it very cold and serve in a chilled bowl.

CHILDREN AND THEIR WAYS ARE DISCUSSED WITH THEIR PARENTS

Is it customary to send announcement cards on the birth of a child? If so, will you please give me the proper style in use, and anything else that is necessary? and greatly oblige your constant reader and friend, F. H. S.

The pretty custom is growing more and more popular. I copy from two cards just laid upon my desk. Upon the larger is engraved in small capitals: MR. AND MRS. LOUIS VAUGHAN HOWARD, 1905 D— Street, Brooklyn.

Upon the smaller, a tiny oblong, attached to the upper centre of the large card by a bow of narrow white ribbon, I read in yet more minute capitals: ELEANOR GRAY HOWARD, JULY THE ELEVENTH, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWO.

The two bits of pasteboard tell the whole story. Friends are not left to hear the important news through chance gossip. And if, on meeting the happy parents, and asking with interest, real or feigned, as to the well-being of "that blessed baby," the solicitous querist need not dampen paternal pride by inquiring, "Boy or girl?"

I read each such announcement with tender interest, laying it aside gently, a dreamy smile in my eyes. An old, old story! Yes, but one that never stales in the repetition. Every baby is a miracle and as marvelous as if no other had ever been born.

A few days ago I had a business letter from a young fellow whom I have never seen, although we have corresponded upon matters interesting to us both, editorially and financially. In this letter he apologizes for the delay of a day or two:

"Pardon me for mentioning that since the receipt of your last favor my first-born has been laid, for the first time, in my arms."

"It is all very, very wonderful—and solemn!"

Then he goes on to write of manuscripts and money. My respect and my liking for him mounted with a bound in reading the passage prefaced by an apology. It was worth all of his other letters put together.

"It is all very, very wonderful—and solemn!"

How can selfishness be obliterated from one's make-up? Can you give me any advice on this subject? Are there any publications on this subject? I have a son, a fine boy in every respect, except that he has more than the normal amount of selfishness. If he is to be cured of this, it must be while he is young. Can you help me? C. J. W.

The best "publication" in his case and in yours would be the issue of what the late Louis A. Godey, my dear friend, used to call my successive babies, "New Editions of Animated Nature, bound in linen cambric."

Godey's "Animated Nature" was in every library then, and lent point to Mr. Godey's jest. He invariably added to his congratulatory, "May the line stretch out to the crack of doom!"

A large family of brothers and sisters is a sovereign panacea for selfishness. If for no other reason than this, the modern American aversion to a plurality of olive plants in the home nursery is hurtful to the race. An only child is a lonely child. That goes without saying. It is almost as surely true that he is a selfish creature. The very love which is his daily food becomes bane in his system, for it fosters self-esteem. His parents' hearts are bound up in him. He is the centre about which revolve all their hopes and their ambitions. He would be more than human if, in the ignorant arrogance of youth, he did not assume and believe for certain that his small personality must be of supreme consequence.

A significant Irish superstition asserts, "The cake undivided makes the eater sick." When the cake is divided into four pieces it is twice as wholesome as when halved.

Have I never told in this Corner a pretty incident that fell under my own eye of the 6-year-old boy whose 8-year-old brother was ordered by the doctor to take the unsugared juice of half a lemon mixed with water every morning as a preventive of malaria?

The boys were exactly the same height and there was but half a pound's difference in their weight. The happy mother often laughingly called them her "twins." They were never apart, day or night. They never said "I" or "mine." It was always "we" and "ours."

On this particular morning Ned found the acid draught especially unpleasant. Too obedient to refuse it, he sipped it with obvious reluctance, even shivering as he tried to follow his mother's advice "to take it all down at once like a man!"

Sterling sat by watching the operation with eyes that waxed from wisdom to agony.

Finally, unable to bear it any longer, he put out a chubby hand:

"Mamma, let me take the rest of it for him!"

This was a clean "obliteration of selfishness," a method of God's very own and hallowed appointment.

I am writing this letter at the request of a lady who is in a most distressed condition, and needs competent advice. Her husband is confined as an incurable in the Trenton Insane Asylum. The wife has been working hard for several years to keep herself and two children from starvation. At present she is so exhausted from work and worry that she is unable to go out, and is compelled to take a little rest. She is employed in a shirt waist factory as an operator. She pays for boarding her daughter out of town $2 a week and keeps the other child, a boy of 6, with her. She would like to place the boy in some free institution, religious or secular, where he could be raised more or less decently. The fact that his father is living makes the question a hard one to solve. There are plenty of orphan homes, but none that I know of that would admit a boy, both of whose parents are living. Yet this father is worse than dead in all respects.

Outside of the fact that the wife is unable to provide for the boy's living, she cannot look after him, being all day in the factory, and the boy is slowly acquiring undesirable habits from the streets.

Could you kindly advise her, and soon, where she could place her boy? By doing so you will perform a real act of charity for a most deserving woman. C. L.

A philanthropic friend to whom this touching query is referred gives the address of the Bethesda Children's Christian Home, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia.

It may be that other hearts may be moved to offer prompt and practical suggestions in reference to a case which has peculiarly sad elements.

The address of the disinterested friend who writes of the virtually widowed woman and her worse than fatherless boy is in my hands. I shall be more than glad to place it at the disposal of anyone who wishes to inquire personally into the facts of the story.

HAY-MAKING PARTIES ARE THE LATEST

THE newest fad of English aristocracy is the hay-making party. Nobles of high degree, well-bred dames and beautiful girls mingle on the meadow with the children and with pitchfork and rake make hay while the sun shines.

Then, after an afternoon of this jolly and informal fun, there comes a delightful dinner on the lawn. For a brief period statesmen forget the cares of office, and social leaders their intrigues and plots and all become as little children.

The leader in this delightful innovation is Lady Levin, one of the most popular women in English society. For years she has given an annual haymaking party on the grounds of Roehampton House. This year, in addition to the joyous picnic on the meadow, Lady Levin had a concert after dinner, the star feature of which was Mme. Melba.

But Americans with slender pockets cannot imitate the novelty, and have a royal good time on very little money. All that is needed is a good crew of men to mow the hay, and a few baskets to carry the food for the crowd.

AT THE CITY HALL.

FIRE BOARD HEARS LENGTHY TESTIMONY.

Charges Against Capt. Roeder Are Considered.

Marked by All-day Session and the Pickwickian Testimony—Fireman Took a Bath, Which Scared Another Man to Death.

For the long, weary hours yesterday the Fire Commission listened to a veritable drizzle of testimony relating to the charges against Capt. Roeder of the Los Angeles Co. No. 11, located at 11th and Burlington avenue. When the hearing was taken at 5 o'clock, the witnesses for the prosecution were examined, cross-examined and re-examined. None of the witnesses for the defense went on the stand yesterday. Further hearing of the case was postponed until next morning.

Roeder is a man of family and without means, and at an early conference preceding the trial he was offered very liberal terms by the Fire Commissioners, and the fact was promised a position in another engine-house twenty days, at the end of which he would be restored to his captaincy at the Seventh-street house, if he did his duty faithfully and well. The advice of his attorneys, Frank & Wideman, and despite the appeals of some commissioners, Roeder stood firm for his rights, and declared that he would not be a captain or leave the department.

In action at the conference Capt. Roeder threw all his chances for the position as a fireman into the air, and it is freely predicted that he will be dropped from the pay roll. It is reported to have been a dramatic element in the department and the evidence adduced shows that he has been a fireman.

The taking of testimony was taken up at the hours for meals, commencing at the Seventh-street house, where the evidence indicates that Roeder has absented himself from the department frequently, has left the engine at home, and driven to the Alvarado streets when he came in, did not always dress in uniform, and at times did not wear a great latitude at the department.

All the rest of the testimony furnished mass of irrelevant details. The testimony of the witnesses was taken up at the hours for meals, commencing at the Seventh-street house, where the evidence indicates that Roeder has absented himself from the department frequently, has left the engine at home, and driven to the Alvarado streets when he came in, did not always dress in uniform, and at times did not wear a great latitude at the department.

ALL EQUALIZED.

LAST OF TAX PROTESTS.

Late yesterday afternoon the Board of Education adjourned sine die, after making deductions in the assessment roll carrying $56,000,000 of about $250,000. The assessed value of about $250,000 was entered on the rolls by the clerk, and a certified copy of the revised footings will be sent to the Council by Minute Clerk Haskins, one week from next Monday. The charter says that the Council shall forthwith fix the tax rate.

A few reductions were granted at the morning and afternoon sessions of the board. The assessment on the franchise of the Edison Electric Company was reduced from $100,000 to $30,000. The Los Angeles Railway Company's franchise was reduced from $500,000 to $450,000. A reduction from $900,000 to $500,000 was granted the Southern Pacific Company on a strip of ground near the Arcade depot. Other reductions were:

H. W. Hellman, lot on Tenth and Hill streets, from $12,000 to $11,000; lot on Fourth street between Spring and Main streets, from $52,000 to $48,000; personal property, $3500 to $2900; estate of Jacob Hurrey, Nadeau street, Nadeau Hotel building and land from $223,900 to $185,950; Maier & Zobelein Brewing Company, a reduction on various property of $2300; William Ferguson, solvent credits, $63,400 to $52,650; Hennes Block building, $60,100 to $50,000; Farmers and Merchants' Bank, solvent credits, reduced from $14,655 to $12,750.

Important applications for reductions in assessment on solvent credits which were denied were Mrs. Leonide Ducommun, $62,240; heirs of Juan Perez, $121,290; J. R. Lecouivre, $63,325.

Fire Board Items.

Postponement for one week was the verdict of the Fire Commission yesterday in the case of the German Evangelical Church vs. H. A. Bingham, who runs a creamery and ice plant at Seventh and San Julian streets. The commissioners considered the complaint of the church people at the last session and during the week personally inspected the plant. It was found that Bingham has invested much money in the business and is willing to buy the church property at any figure that may be set by three arbitrators.

C. A. Isbell was granted a permit to establish a blacksmith shop at No. 625 Eastlake avenue.

No action was taken regarding the protest of residents against the proposed rebuilding of a planing mill at No. 330 San Pedro street.

The application of Walter Londey for permission to establish a livery stable on the east side of Figueroa street between Twelfth and Pine streets, was referred to the Chief with other routine petitions.

2000 different claimants of his money, this is the wildest yet. The claim was set forth yesterday by a lawyer in Los Angeles with the utmost seriousness. Only his extreme modesty has prevented him from making the intelligence official.

He vows that the old miser was not Salem Charles, neither was he Charles Hill of America, Ga., nor yet any of the thousands of other Charles Hills. He was still another Charles Hill.

The lawyer says that about forty-five years ago Hill was a sailor and piloted the racing mail. One voyage he sailed in a ship carrying treasure to South America.

Off the coast of Lower California the treasure was lost. Hill was forced to either join the mutineers or be killed. He thought he was too young to die, so he turned pirate with the other naughty men.

His share of the money was $162,000. His conscience hurt him so that he couldn't spend the money. He buried it deep down in the earth and gave $25,000 to the lawyer's brother to bury for him. This is the way the lawyer learned the secret.

For years Hill wandered around the coast, much of the time in Oregon under the name of Holmes. Thus the pirate Charles Hill had no relatives. Who ever heard of a pirate with relatives, anyhow?

A hot-shut pirate he'd be with a sister who called him Charalle, and a kid brother who stole the gold-dipped heads of his victims and used 'em for Jack of lanterns.

No respectable pirate of good standing has relatives.

Meaning the lawyer of Mrs. Hill of America, Ga., is hot on the trail of the fortune. Her lawyer is in Texas hunting up evidence with which to combat the claims of the Charles family of Massachusetts.

BOY BURGLAR SQUEALS.

Gus Meyers, the boy burglar, is working today in the parish and is allowed to go to the reform school, instead of State's prison.

The police are pulling on one side, and Meyers' friends on the other, for the police are unwilling that the enterprising young crook should escape with such a veritable love pat of a sentence.

In spite of his boyish years, Meyers is a sure-enough burglar, and a desperate burglar, apparently prepared to do murder if necessary, to carry out his designs, for among the criminal exhibits is a big revolver, which he carried when on his numerous night raids.

LOST IN JAIL.

PRISONER FOUND.

After being lost a few months in the County Jail tanks, Aldine Almerger of Compton has been recovered.

One paper got folded inside another, or something, and Almerger has been locked up in a sturdy jail since June 2, without any trial.

Almerger is an ignorant man, and knew not what his rights were; so he sweated in silent endurance.

Yesterday somebody discovered him. It occurred to the jailer that Almerger had been on county fare for a good long while, without anything happening. The caught to the attention of the District Attorney.

see the books of the company, to get evidence. Curry and Wilson, who had changed the combination of the safe and locked up the books, refused to allow them to be seen, unless Mrs. Howe and her adherents would sign an agreement not to tamper with the books, and to be good generally. This proposition was indignantly refused.

Curry and Wilson were then arrested, charged with violating the statute, which provides that the books of corporations must be open to stockholders. They were fined $10 each, but appealed.

In affirming the decision of the lower court, Judge Smith held that corporations have the right to throw conditions around the rights granted to stockholders by this law.

THE INFERIOR COURT. UNFAITHFUL WIFE AND GAY LOTHARIO. COLORED CHEF FINDS HIS HOME IN A PRETTY STEW.

John Brooks Withholds the Cash and is Assaulted by Wife's Paramour—Lord Diamond Case Goes Over Until Tomorrow.

John Brooks, colored chef on the private car of General Manager Wells of the Santa Fe, has a sore grievance against a colored Lothario named Walter Hill.

According to the evidence adduced in Justice Morgan's court, yesterday, in a battery case against Hill, the latter made a desperate assault on Brooks on East Third street, with stones gathered from a convenient pile, and was only prevented from doing Brooks serious injury by the badness of the stones.

Brooks claims that during his frequent enforced absence from home, by reason of his duties, Hill has invaded the sacredness of his home, and Mrs. Brooks has not been averse to Hill's embraces. As a consequence Brooks has got tight strings in his pants.

On the night of the assault upon Brooks, at Third street and Stephenson avenue, Mrs. Brooks came out from behind a drug store and demanded money of her husband, as he was passing, and a few minutes later Hill assaulted him near the same place.

The supposition is that the pair lay in wait for him, but as he had a companion on the street, their plans were interfered with.

Brooks is a fine-looking, big fellow, a trusted and valuable man to his employer, while Hill is in every respect the opposite. The secret of Mrs. Brooks' infatuation is past finding out.

FAN-TAN PLAYERS.

Party of Chinamen Surprised in the Midst of a Game on Marchessault Street Yesterday.

Wong Tong and Lee Sing were surprised in the midst of a game of fan-tan yesterday, and booked at the Police Station on a misdemeanor charge. From a distance Detective Auble had observed the quiet going and coming of Chinamen, like ants crawling in and out of a hole in the wall, in the rear of a Marchessault-street resort.

On the front doorstep sat a Chinaman, ceaselessly wringing his hands, watching up and down the street for the cop.

Auble got around to the rear and when he saw a Chinaman come out

FROM EIGHT YOUNG MEN.

Mrs. Melbourne Receives a Token of Their Respect.

In Hancock, Mich., there is a club of eight young men—known as the "Pure Food Club"—whose aims are to regulate the use of foods that are known to be free from inferior ingredients and poisonous matter, and to own the great efforts made by some rogues to palm off on the unsuspecting public worthless substitutes for nutritious articles. This is a most commendable aim, and if similar clubs all over the country were formed, the quality of groceries would soon be of much higher order. The club unanimously indorses Alpha Salad Cream.

Mrs. Bessie Melbourne, the president, recently wrote to the makers as follows: "I have been presented by my club with a bottle of Alpha Salad Cream, and was so pleased with it that I have since bought and used over a dozen more bottles."

For salads, meats, beans, fish, vegetables this is the most delicious and easily digested table sauce on the market. Thousands of people speak of it just as Mrs. Melbourne does. Buy it at any grocery store. H. J. Blodgett Co., Boston, mfrs.

concluded that was the place, and as soon as the latter disappeared the detective dodged into the door. He quietly walked through the store and, looking out the closed front door, saw the sentinel monkey on the step. A little quickly passed into a side room and came upon the game in full swing.

One of them gave a squawk, and they all jumped as they had touched a live wire. Four Chinamen and the gambling outfit were captured, but charges will be lodged against only Wong Tong and Lee Sing.

When called upon to put up bail for their appearance this afternoon, Wong Tong tumbled eight $20 gold pieces out of a bag and let the officers take what they wanted.

That was a sure-enough scheme to work on the Chinamen, to catch them in the act, and it is possible certain poker joints are being successfully raided in the same way in Caucasian quarters.

It would be in the line of fairness to John.

A Matchless List of Economic Values for this Afternoon's Shopping—12 to 6 p.m.

The crowds last Thursday afternoon were great—so were the bargains that attracted them to this great store. But all previous efforts will pale into insignificance when compared with this afternoon's banner list of merchandise values; for a careful selection of things needed for personal adornment or home comfort—judging prices by the quality—makes the indelible that such values are not possible of duplication. A week ago we were on the last day of our half yearly inventory and we know that many customers were not waited on promptly as is our custom; but today every courtesy will be extended to meet your demands quickly; and the buoyant steps of scores of salespeople will attest how thoroughly they have enjoyed their recent week's vacation; when the monetary value of not a minute's time was lost for we paid each employee a week's salary in advance so they could thoroughly enjoy the week's outing.
